

Canterbury Tales Pilgrims

C. Phlegar

Across

- 1 tunic embroidered with red and white flowers, a "ladies man", 20 years old.
- 3 a poor man made rich by God's work, kind and soft spoken.
- 8 red faced covered with carbuncles, drank until he was hazy, smelled of garlic and onions.
- 10 a prioress, concerned with manners, wide forehead.
- 11 frugal man, outwits his masters
- 12 keeps gifts in his pocket for pretty girls, knew tavern keepers and barmaids well.
- 14 had 5 husbands, wore red stockings, attractive, slightly deaf.
- 16 fat, bells on his saddle, a hunter, wore a gold pin and fur lined cloak.
- 18 wore blood red and blue striped garment; had a love of gold; sly dealings with apothecaries.
- 19 waxy, yellow hair that "hung like rat tails", bulging eyes, sold fake holy relics.
- 20 large, strong fellow, red beard, black nostrils, loud, told dirty stories.

Down

- 2 a perfect gentleman, modest, stained tunic
- 4 wore a green hood, head like a nut.
- 5 the Parson's brother, a farmer, honest worker.
- 6 gave the impression of being busier than he was, wore a multi-colored coat.
- 7 had white beard, red face, loved expensive food and wine.
- 9 old, thin, cranky, mean to his workers, stole from his master.
- 13 wore a motley tunic, had a forked beard, Flemish beaver cap.
- 15 an accomplished sailor, not a nice man, wore a dagger on a lanyard.
- 17 thin, spends more on books than food. Thin horse.